Pulaski, a close friend of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly," and "Dawning" with the accompaniments being played by Miss Clonda Bohn of Cornland. Miss Bohn played as her inbetween number, "Because", and the bridal marches, "Wedding March from Lohengrin," and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and during the ceremony softly played, "The Student Prince."

A reception and dinner followed the ceremony and yellow roses and tapers formed a very pretty setting for the bride's table at which the immediate relatives were seated. The couple left immediately after the dinner for a short wedding trip after which they will take up their residence at the home of his parents, south west of Beason.

Optimism

By JOHN WATSON (1850-1907)

ONLY one institution in human society carries the dew of its youth, and through the conflict of the centuries still chants its morning song. It is the religion of Jesus. Its hymns, its prayers, its heroism, are ever fresh and radiant. If a man desires to be young in his soul let him receive the spirit of Jesus, and bathe his soul in the Christian hope.
