ASK CONTINUANCE

IN RYAN CASE

When the June term of federal district court convened Monday George Ryan, former Lincoln bank teller, entered a formal plea of not guilty to a charge of embezzlement of $15,540 in Lincoln National bank funds.

In electing to stand trial, counsel for Ryan entered a motion for a continuance of the case, which was ruled on later by Judge Louis Fitz Henry, denying a continuance and the case will probably be tried the first part of July. Ryan was represented by Peter Murphy and Everett Smith of Lincoln.

Ryan was indicted by a grand jury in Peoria last April. It is said by government officials that he made a confession that he embezzled the bank's funds over a period of a year, but that since he has repudiated it.

Ryan, who resides in Lincoln, was a bookkeeper and teller at the bank. Judge FitzHenry set his bond at $6,000. Ryan produced the bond and has been at liberty since the indictment was returned.

The case of Tony Matonis, 19, indicted for participation with Elbert Davis, in burglary of the Alexander Lumber Co. office, was admitted to reduced $500 bond and his case continued for one year. He has been offered work on a farm while under bond, and the burglary charge will stand pending action at the end of a year. The same procedure will probably be followed in Davis' case. Matonis expects to furnish bond.

Harold Reise, Atlanta, was arraigned to qualify for bond and his case continued. The probation officer Charles E. Dehrer, will investigate the Reise case pending arraignment of Reise to enter a plea on a charge of possession of a stolen typewriter.

When the docket was called Monday the Gleason case was dismissed for want of prosecution on the part of the complaining witness.

When Batterton was arraigned before Judge Frank Lindley late Friday afternoon for final decision on probation, it was disclosed that earlier in the day he had ransacked clothing of James Callahan in a cell at the county jail and had stolen 65 cents while Callahan was in court obtaining probation on a charge of auto theft.
