

REFLECTIONS

By The Editor

We've never seen a snowslide or a mountain slide, but after Tuesday's election results we have a more definite conception of just what it is.

Like a mountain slide, a political landslide is identically the same in this respect:

It sweeps everything that is in its path.

So it was Tuesday—the Democratic party sweeping thru the nation and smothering their opposition almost off the face of the political map.

But there the likeness stops.

The mountainside leaves destruction in its path.

That will not be the case in this political landslide.

Now that election is over we realize more than ever that we are American citizens with a common purpose.

And that is to cultivate the arts of peace and happiness and work together for the best interests of our nation.

The attitude of President Hoover as expressed in his congratulatory message to President-elect Roosevelt should be emulated by every loyal citizen.

His message read:

"I congratulate you on the opportunity that has come to you to be of service to the country and I wish for you a most successful administration. In the common purpose of all of us I shall dedicate myself to every possible helpful effort."

Herbert Hoover.

That, and the comment of many strong Republican papers, pledging their support toward hastening a return to better days, is one of the most encouraging signs we have seen.

Let's Go, America.

Wm. J. Haynes Died Suddenly

William J. Haynes, a well known and highly respected resident of Mt. Pulaski vicinity, residing on the Charles Kemmer farm about one mile north of the city, passed away suddenly at 5 o'clock Sunday evening, November 6, 1932, aged 55 years, 11 months and 5 days. He seemed in his usual good health that day, and was busy with the evening chores, and without warning fell in the barn yard and died before his son William could reach his side. Deep regret was heard on every side when it became known that Mr. Haynes had passed away so suddenly, and the family has the sincerest sympathy of everybody in the community.

Coroner Edwin C. Goff of Lincoln, was called, and on Monday morning held an inquiry into the cause of Mr. Haynes' death.

William J. Haynes was born near Decatur, Illinois, December 8, 1876. On December 20, 1901, he was united in marriage with Miss Ethel Kirkman. They lived for many years in the Copeland Christian church neighborhood, then farmed the Alfred Loetterle place northeast of town a couple of years, and this was the second year on the Kemmer farm.

Mr. Haynes is survived by his wife, and the following four children: Mrs. Donald Copeland, living seven miles south of Mt. Pulaski; Mrs. Wilma Maxey, of Armstrong, Illinois; William and Harold Haynes, at home; also four grandchildren; one brother, George Haynes, of Decatur; and two sisters, Mrs. Ernest Stewart, of Assumption, Illinois, and Mrs. Omer Cripe, of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Funeral services were held at the Mt. Pulaski Christian church at 2 p. m., Wednesday, November 9th, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. Wayne Staley. Miss Lois Copeland and Miss Kathryn Kolp sang a duet, and other appropriate songs were sung by a quartet composed of Robert N. Jones, Frank E. Turley, Clarence and George Bowers, with the accompaniments being played by Mrs. Frank E. Turley. Mt. Pulaski Lodge No. 454, I. O. O. F., was in charge. Interment was made in Steenberg cemetery, four miles southwest of Mt. Pulaski. The pall bearers were Herbert Birks, Fred Bellatti, Frank Copeland, Oran Scroggin, Charles Kemmer and Harry Downing.

Armistice Day Proclamation

Governor Emmerson Issues Armistice Day Proclamation For Friday Nov. 11

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 10.—Governor Louis L. Emmerson in an official proclamation this week, urged the people of Illinois to pay their usual tribute to the dead and living heroes of the World War by facing East for a period of two minutes at 11 o'clock on the morning of Armistice Day, Friday, November 11th.

Governor Emmerson's proclamation follows:

"On Friday, November 11th, fourteen years will have elapsed since a war weary world called a halt to the bloodiest conflict in the history of mankind, and cast aside its armor for the implements of peace," Governor Emmerson said.

"Termination of that great conflict, with its stupendous wastage of man-power and resources of nations, resulted from the participation of the United States, and the patriotic sacrifices of our loyal men and women.

"To perpetuate the historical significance of the signing of the Armistice, and to keep forever before our people the splendid sacrifices that made victory possible, our Federal Congress and the General Assembly of Illinois have enacted legislation declaring the Eleventh Day of November of each year as a general holiday.

"Therefore, I, Louis L. Emmerson, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby designate Friday, the Eleventh day of November, as and urge that it be observed in a spirit of tribute to the dead and living, whose sacrifices have preserved our National security, and thereby aided in preventing a world-wide breakdown in orderly government.

"I further urge that upon the stroke of eleven o'clock on the morning of November eleventh, there shall be a general cessation of all activities throughout the State and that our citizens, with heads bared, face East for a period of two minutes in silent homage to the dead heroes of the World War.

"And I further direct that on this day, the National Emblem be displayed on all public buildings throughout the State."

PRESIDENT-ELECT

Democrats Sweep Out Republicans

Roosevelt and Horner Given Big Majority In Illinois

The Democratic victory of Tuesday was nationwide not only in national but in state and county results as well.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, at latest reports, had an estimated electoral vote of 472, and his popular vote was the greatest ever given a candidate for president.

Judge Henry Horner also showed a clean pair of heels to his opponent for the governorship, winning by over a half million votes.

Other winners were: Deitrich for U. S. Senator; Gillespie for Congressman; Chynoweth, Doyle and Gayle for members of the State Legislature; and L. C. Williams for State Senator to replace Chas. Lee.

The entire Democratic ticket in Logan county was returned victorious with majorities ranging from 500 to over 3,000. The victors are John R. Parker, Everett Smith, Alvin Ahrens and Albert Heitmann.

Other Election Briefs.

There were thirty-four Senate seats at issue. The Democrats captured twenty-five of these to give them fifty-six seats in the Seventy-Third Congress. The Republicans took five. The others were still doubtful.

On the House side, already Democratic, the tale of Republican disaster was repeated. The winners have 218 seats there now. They are certain of about 260 after next March 4th—and seventy-eight House races are still in doubt.

Michigan went Democratic. So did Iowa, birthplace of Herbert Hoover; California, where he lives; Kansas, home of Vice President Curtis; and Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

The Bond Issue carried by a tremendous majority in this county, and was running just as strong in other sections.

The Banking Act and Gateway amendment also ran heavily on the "yes" side.

A very comprehensive table elsewhere in this issue will give you the entire voting results in Logan county.
