MOUNT PULASKI, ILL.

THURSDAY, MAY 8, 1947

What a magic word that is!

Men for ages have been trying to recapture it.

Ponce de Leon, the Spanish explorer, sought in vain for the fountain of perpetual youth in

The charm of this gradual development of youth-

From the days of babyhood;

Thence into the happy period of childhood;

Or, into the carefree adolesence of youth;

Leading into an adventurous young manhood with ONLY the world to conquer-

A minor detail when attempted with the enthusiasm of youth. Mrs. Della Ely Wed

But thru all these exciting and everchanging periods of youthful growth, too often at times, comes a discordant note.

Parents many times reprimand youth not for their major faults, but for trivial ones.

Finding fault with this or that, is often a case of irritable nerves on the part of the parent.

But in most cases this is the mistake most of us make-

Visualizing them as men and as women in all their acts;

Expecting them to think in the terms of grownups;

Expecting them to worry about those holes in the stocking-knee;

Expecting them to worry about shoes that met an untimely end because they were used to kick rocks out of the way instead of stepping over them;

Expecting them to understand the whys and the wherefores of this, and of that.

The greatest mistake we make is measuring youth by the yardstick of our own years.

When Ponce de Leon failed to discover perpetual youth in a far away clime.

He did not realize that that quest was to be found in one's own "backyard."

No matter how fast the years may come and go,

Bringing with them age and graying locks,

The spirit of youth bubbles on incessantly and exhiliratingly all

The entrance of a tiny visitor into the world is the signal for rejoicing, for here again is evidence of perpetual youth.

The moulding of this small bit of humanity into childhood, and on into young manhood or womanhood, is an increasingly joyous adventure to parent and

REFLECTIONS No, No, No, No, Yes!; No Daylight Savings For Mount Pulaski

Ignoring the petition signed by practically every business man in Mount Pulaski, requesting daylight savings time, the city council literally threw the petition out the window at a special meeting Friday night of last week when they voted 4 to 1 against the "fast time" for the summer months. summer months.

The voting was: West, no; Baumann, no; Copeland, no; Bertoni, no; Waddell, yes; Hargrave pass-

Which decision reminds one of of the story of a fond mother whose son was marching down the avenue along with several hundred others in uniform.

"Why," she cried, "everyone is out of step but John!"

Other towns in the county now on daylight saving time are Lincoln, Atlanta, Emden, Hartsburg, Beason and Elkhart. Cities on fast time in this area are Peoria, Springfield, Bloomington, Pekin, and Normal.

Pekin Moose Lose To Mount Pulaski In League Opener

Mount Pulaski Fans opened their season in the Central Illi-nois Amateur League Sunday af-ternoon at Dittus Field with a one-sided win over the Pekin

Moose, 10 to 2.

"Smokey" Ingram, on the slab for the locals, was extremely stingy with base hits, giving up only two as he went the route. Both runs scored were unearned. Pulaski batsmen were socking the ball for 9 hits, with Bud Manes slamming a three-bagger and a freak two-base blow. Wilham, Blackwell and Ingram also got two singles each.

In the opening inning Manes slammed a hard-hit ball high in-to left field but a freak wind carried it higher and higher and almost straight up, then let loose of it. As it dropped another cross current picked it up and wafted it back toward the infield, with outfielders and infield ers running around in circles trying to be at the right spot to catch it. Believe it or not, the ball fell between shortstop and the pitchers mound untouched and Manes was safe at second with a two-base infield hit to his
