Train Smashes Truck Driven By Carl Koehne, 20, At Cornland

REFLECTIONS (By the Editor)

Everyone who has at some time told a little "white lie" please stand up.

Thanks! The entire audience may now be seated!

You have often heard the question:

"Is a person justified in telling a 'white lie'?"

We would rather not put an O. K. on the affirmative side.

Neither, would we say, "NO!"

Circumstances, to us, are the deciding factors.

Where no one is injured but a situation is avoided that might cause unpleasant developments, the affirmative has a point in its favor.

However, there are so many forms of "white lies," and just how one is going to determine the difference at times,

Makes it a rather delicate operation at times.

In other words, there are so many "shadings" one can make.

We are trying to recall the "only (?) white lie" we ever told.

Telling the first one isn't so bad.

But it is like taking a drink of the forbidden spirits—

It is so much easier the next time that it can soon become a habit.

That makes a point in favor of the negative.

Sometimes the attitude of the person to whom you tell your "white lie" is the cause of your taking this way out.

If you knew they would be reasonable and sensible about it you would "come clean."

Wouldn't we, fellows?

However, our advice to the youngsters is:

Don't start telling them.

As for the older folks—well, they are old enough to make their own decisions.

Truck Demolished And Koehne Is Seriously Hurt.

Carl H. Koehne, 20, of Greenville, who is in the employ of Bill McCurry of Cornland, suffered severe injuries Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock when the McCurry truck he was driving was struck by a wrecking train at Cornland.

The accident happened on the crossing almost in front of the Cornland Grain Co. Koehne, who was hauling cobs from the elevator, was returning after having made a delivery. The local freight had just gone through and Koehne, no doubt, had no thought of another train following so close behind it, drove onto the tracks in the path of the wrecker. He was thrown from the truck at the point of impact while the truck was rolled about 50 yards down the track.

Koehne was rushed to the St. Clara's hospital, Lincoln, in the Schahl ambulance where Dr. E. H. Cox reported severe head lacerations, concussion and possible skull fracture.

Ward Harper and a group of farmers were in the elevator at the time of the accident but no one saw it until they noticed the wreckage after the train had passed.

Ruth Ann Felts, a sister of the late Edwin and Orrin Felts of Mount Pulaski, was born April 3, 1868, in Smartsville, California a daughter of Albert and Mary Ann Smithing Felts, who had gone to the Pacific coast from their native Pennsylvania. She was only a few weeks old when her parents decided to move back east, and in June the family sailed on a steamship down the Pacific coast to the Isthmus of Panama, where they crossed overland to the Atlantic coast, this being a great many years before the Panama Canal was built. ELMER ROOS INJURED WHEN RUN OVER BY WAGON LOAD CORN

Elmer Roos, 52, well known farmer living east of Chestnut, was seriously injured about 9:30 a. m. last Saturday when he was run over by a wagon containing about 60 bushels of corn. He was standing on the tongue of the wagon, which was being pulled by a tractor driven by Vernon Cooper of Mount Pulaski, and fell under the wheels, which ran across his body. Unaware of the accident, Mr. Cooper continued around the field, and discovered the injured man on the return trip.

The Schahl ambulance was called and he was removed to the Deaconess hospital in Lincoln. Dr. Hugh Cooper of Peoria, assisted Dr. V. J. Soukup of Chestnut, in reducing a dislocated hip Saturday afternoon. He also sustained several fractured ribs and possible internal injuries.

Home Game Opener Friday, Nov. 21st, With Athens.

Mount Pulaski's Hilltoppers of '47 will make their initial start of the current season at Elkhart on Tuesday night, when they play two games. They will open the home season on Friday night of next week, playing Athens.

While Pulaski suffered a heavy loss of letter men, who were better than average players, the nucleus of another strong team still remains and the distance they go this year will depend upon the way the subs come thru to give the team needed reserve strength. That was one of the bulwarks last year and did much to give the team the prestige it enjoyed.

Manes, Litterly, Shanle, Waddell and Horn were performers that will be missed this year. Taking up for them will be letter men Hatfield, a regular, senior; Myrick and Kinert, sophomores, who saw a lot of service; while reserve material which will be used to help form the varsity, consists of Haynes, Meister, Buckles, Bohn, Williams, Romer and Deibert.

Coach Carroll Wood is quite optimistic about the team outlook this year and opponents are going to find the going tough.
